MYSTERY SURROUNDS THE DEATH

Of a Young Girl Whose Body Was Found Floating on Lake

POLICE FOLLOW CLUES

But None Has Given Any Tangible Solution—Young Man Arrested on Suspicion in Connection With the Case.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 9.—The police and county authorities who are trying to solve the mystery surrounding the death of Miss Alice Crispel, the 18-year-old daughter of a farmer, whose body was found floating in Harvey's Lake on Monday, are today working on a half dozen theories, none of which has as yet given a tangible clue.

Herbert Johns, the mine worker, who was the last person seen with the girl last Friday night, and who is in jail on suspicion in connection with the case, maintains his calm demeanor, and despite the efforts of the police and county authorities to get from him a different version, he sticks to the details of the story he has told about the last night he was with the girl.

One of the theories the authorities are working on is that Johns may have had a rival for the hand of Miss Crispel. In the letter Johns wrote to the girl on Sunday after she had been missing two days, and which was made public yesterday, he mentioned a man named Canney. This is thought to be Harrison Canney of Wilkesbarre, who when questioned by the police said he knew nothing about the death of the girl, and further expressed the belief that Johns was also innocent.

The police are investigating the report that the girl was to favor the one who first swam across the widest part of the lake, a distance of about two and a half miles. Search is being made for a third man, who was said to be interested in Miss Crispel to learn if he can throw any light on the death of the girl.

Friends of the Crispel family are not so sure that she was murdered, some of them advancing the theory that she may have fallen into the lake accidentally.

WHITE LEADS FOR GRAND TREASURER AT ELK REUNION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Rochester, N. Y., July 9.—A second ballot for Grand Exalted Treasurer and the report of the committee appointed to consider the question of erecting of a national home at Bedford Va., was the chief business before the Grand Lodge of Elks, when the second day's session of the 49th annual reunion convened this morning.

Charles A. White of Chicago led for Grand Treasurer on the first ballot yesterday against his three opponents lacking but 156 votes of a decision.

TO TOUR STATE IN INTEREST OF ALFALFA

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) St. Clairsville, O., July 9.—After addresses were made by speakers from Iowa, Illinois and Ohio universities before the Belmont county alfalfa commission here last night, it was decided to start automobile parties broadcast today urging Ohio farmers to pay attention to growing alfalfa. The campaign it is said will be taken up by other states.

TIRED OF FARM BOY KILLS SELF

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Beaver Falls, Pa., July 9.—Despondent because he was compelled to stay on the farm on July Fourth, Arthur Bowers, aged 15, shot himself through the breast with a rifle. At first the shooting was believed to be accidental, but later a blood stained note was found in the pockets of the boy, saying he was tired of farm life.

NO BIDDERS FOR THE PIKE BONDS

County commissioners found no bidders for county pike improvement bonds aggregating $210,000, when offered for sale Wednesday afternoon at 5 per cent. The separate issues were distributed as follows:

- $51,000 Granville to Croton.
- $34,000 Newark, Jacksontown and to county line.
- $20,000 Newark to Muskingum county line.
- $20,000 Newark-Linnville pike.
- $45,000 Thirteen and a half miles, Newark-Columbus pike.
- $20,000 Two miles, Linnville pike to Linnville.
- $20,000 Linnville extension.

LOCKED CASHIER IN VAULT AND STOLE FUNDS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Rigby, Idaho, July 9.—Wide-spread search was instituted today for a robber who entered the State Bank of Rigby late last night and took $2,800. The robber drove the cashier and assistant cashier into a vault, compelled them to throw out all the money in it, and then locked up the safe and left the bank.

TOWNSHIP CLERK TIRES OF LIFE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Marion, O., July 9.—Isaac Osburn, Marion township clerk, and prominent Republican, committed suicide with carbolic acid early today.

He jokingly told his wife yesterday how he wanted to be buried if anything should ever happen to him. Osburn had been badly crippled since infancy.

TWENTY-SIXTH INTERNATIONAL C. E. CONVENTION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Los Angeles, July 9.—Following the "New England Special" this morning, thirteen special trains were scheduled to reach Los Angeles today, bringing 10,000 delegates to the twenty-sixth International Christian Endeavor convention, which will begin tonight.

Among the 600 passengers on the "New England Special" was Frances E. Clark, founder and president of the society.

It seems that no matter how high he climbs, a man is never above suspicion.

MAY HAVE VIOLATED BANK ACT

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo Will Ask For Investigation

THE PITTSBURG FAILURE

Of the First-Second National Bank Has Caused the Run to Continue on Savings Bank—Confidence in the Institution.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, July 9.—Secretary McAdoo before the close of the day expects to ask Attorney General McReynolds to investigate alleged irregularities in connection with the closing of the First-Second National bank of Pittsburgh, and determine whether the National bank act has been violated. Sufficient facts have been obtained by the treasury department it is said, to warrant immediate intervention by the department of justice.

Thomas P. Kane, acting comptroller of the currency who returned today from Pittsburgh where he closed the First-Second National bank, declares that the First National bank of that city should have been "cleaned up or closed up" at the time of its merger with the Second National bank several months ago. The merger was authorized by Lawrence O. Murray, former comptroller of the currency. At that time Mr. Kane declared today the First National's capital was badly impaired and the bank was notified last December that its impaired capital must be restored.

RESUME RUN ON PITTSBURG BANK.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Pittsburgh, July 9.—When the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings opened for business this morning the run that was started Monday upon the closing of the doors of the First-Second National bank was resumed but not in such volume as the two preceding days.

Police regulations continued to be maintained and all the receiving windows were thrown open for the use of those desiring to withdraw money from the bank.

Those who came to deposit found much difficulty in being waited on quickly and complaints from these. President W. J. Jones, who was elected yesterday said was a demonstration of the confidence in the bank. He further announced that all tellers were at the service of those desiring to withdraw, and that as little inconvenience as possible would be caused. He again reiterated former declarations of the banks officials that the bank was prepared to meet the most exacting situation.

Petitions were presented in the Federal court today asking for receivers for six subsidiary companies of the American Water Works and Guarantee company, one of the Kuhn interests affected by the closing of the First-Second National bank of this city. The petitions were granted by Judge C. P. Orr, but the appointments were not made at once. The companies are the United Coal company, the Pittsburgh & Baltimore Coal company, the Somerset Smokeless Coal company, the Isabella-Connellsville Coke company, the Merchants Coal company of Pennsylvania, and the Naomi Coal company. In all but one of the petitions the application is made in the name of Lucien Hill, a resident of Maryland while in that of the Isabella-Connellsville Coke company, Hill and the company itself are named.

MERCURY DROPS 20 DEGREES IN ABOUT 2 HOURS

A drop in temperature of more than 20 degrees in less than two hours was noted on the instrument in front of the headquarters this afternoon. At noon today, the thermometer registered 90 degrees. An hour later and but a few moments before the rain, it had dropped to 88 degrees.

At 2 o'clock after the rain had been falling for a few minutes, the mercury in the tube dropped rapidly and had reached 69 degrees.

The fire ladders became alarmed, fearing the plumbing might freeze up before supper time.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Cincinnati, O., July 9.—Robert Voss, 13, was shot and instantly killed today by his brother Arthur, aged 9. The boys were at play in front of their home and were drilling with a shotgun that had been taken from their home.

R. E. Lipscomb Tells How Signatures to Referendum Petition Have Been Obtained

RALPH LIPSCOMB.

Assistant Attorney General Dempsey of Columbus and Local Officials Secure Statement That Number of Names Were Forged

YOUNG MAN WILL BE PLACED UNDER BOND

Will Be Expected to Testify Later Against Men Who Were at the Head of One of the Most Colossal Frauds Ever Perpetrated in Ohio—Drag Net May Land Number of Persons Implicated in the Fraud—Vincent Released on Bond.

With the statement that disclosures made by Ralph E. Lipscomb and Harry Wheeler, circulators of referendum petitions in Newark and Licking counties, warranted the assertion that a great many of the names on petitions filed and ready for filing, were base forgeries, attorneys representing Governor Cox feel satisfied that much fruit will be borne by the investigation which resulted from the preliminary investigation conducted by Editor J. H. Newton of the Advocate.

Though the attorneys refused to state definitely what the result will be, it is the belief of those interested in the probe that a great many arrests will be made soon as a result of the stories related by Wheeler and Lipscomb Wednesday morning.

According to a decision made at a conference of state officials at Columbus Tuesday when the preliminary plans for the official investigation were laid, no details of the examination of the two Newark men will be made public.

Lipscomb, according to an agreement entered into with Police Chief Sheridan Tuesday afternoon, appeared at the office of Prosecutor J. Howard Jones at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Shortly afterwards Lipscomb faced Assistant Attorney General J. P. Dempsey, Special Counsel Marshall of the attorney general's office, Prosecutor J. Howard Jones and City Solicitor Jones. Assistant Court Stenographer J. R. Cooper was present and took a stenographic report of the examination of witnesses.

Police Chief J. S. Sheridan assisted the probers by locating witnesses and bringing them before the attorneys.

The examination of Lipscomb consumed more than an hour and after he had told of his connection with the petitions, his cousin, Harry Wheeler, who assisted him, was called before the attorneys.

"Lipscomb and Wheeler told the whole story," was the way the attorneys told of the results of the examination. Just what the whole story consisted of was not explained and the public probably will not know unless some of the cases come to trial.

"We learned enough," said one of the attorneys, "to say that a great many of the names on the petitions are forgeries. We can not, in justice to the case we are preparing, state who will be prosecuted nor where the affidavits will be filed or where the preliminary hearings will be held. Announcement of any of these details would tip off the hard of the probers and would no doubt result in the 'disappearance' of a

Committee Business of Flint Glassworkers is Occupying the Convention

Wednesday was a day of busy activity for committees into which the national convention of American Flint Glassworkers is now divided. National officers sat in readiness to offer advice or furnish statistics to the various committees in session. Until these committees are ready to make their reports to the convention sitting as a whole, little of public interest will transpire, say the officials.

Committee work probably will occupy the greater part of this week. The auditing committee reported Tuesday afternoon. The convention considered the various items and official approval is expected.

Unofficial, partial reports from a few early committees were received late Wednesday, indicating that business to come before the convention is only just developing.

WOMAN INJURED IN RUNNING RACE AT BUCKEYE LAKE

While participating in a running race at Buckeye Lake Park on Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. John Fields of 404 South Second street received serious injuries in a fall.

Mrs. Fields was attending an outing given by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Trainmen and one of the events planned on the program of the day was a running race for the women. Mrs. Fields took part in it and in running stumbled and fell. She was seen to be seriously injured and Dr. C. F. Legge of Newark was called to the lake. Medical attention was given and it is thought she is injured internally. However, Wednesday morning her condition was somewhat improved.

LEPER ESCAPES FROM QUARANTINE AT PORT TOWNSEND

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Port Townsend, July 9.—Camillo Pittaro, the leper, who was sent to Point Diamond quarantine last Saturday has escaped and is said to be making his way back to Minneapolis. A Spanish war veteran, who was declared to be a leper, and appointed an attendant at the quarantine station knew of Pittaro's escape but failed to report it until yesterday.

Pittaro had been acting strangely of late, at times becoming violent.

SERIOUS CHARGES AGAINST SUPREME COURT JUSTICE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Albany, N. Y., July 9.—John A. Connolly, former president of the Victor Heating company, continued his testimony today concerning the charges brought against Supreme Court Justice Daniel F. Conahan by the grievance committee of the Bar Association of New York.

Connolly has charged the New York jurist with having exacted commissions for procuring contracts for heating work from New York City departments and promising for a consideration to obtain for him a lucrative political position.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, O., July 9.—Hail stones as large as walnuts fell in Columbus today and other parts of Franklin county during a rain storm, which broke shortly after noon. Plate glass windows were broken in many parts of the city.

On The Right Track

(By Chalmers L. Hancock.)

The town that invests money in permanent improvement is on the right track.

The town that wins is first made highly advertisable, before spending lavishly to herald abroad the mere fact that the town is on the map.

Advertise by all means. It's the way to grow, but first get something worth advertising.

Every town has some good advertising copy in it. While a town is undergoing the process of rebuilding and improving itself, it is a good plan to dig up the advertising copy available and use it.

If any town succeeds in securing larger and better populations, more and better industries, there are four rules to be strictly adhered to.

The first, "advertise"; the second, "Advertise"; the third, "ADVERTISE," and the fourth, HAVE What Is Advertised."

GREAT FIELD ENTERED FOR FASIG STAKE

Many Thrills for Spectators in Second Day's Meet of Grand Circuit Races at Cleveland.

(Associated Press Telegram.)

Cleveland, O., July 9.—While all four of the events listed for today's races in the Grand Circuit meeting promise great contests, the field in the Fasig 2:07 trot is so evenly matched that it is most unusual. Eight horses are entered, with only two seconds difference between the records of the fastest and the slowest.

These entries are:
Fisher W. 2:06 1-4.
Gay Audobon 2:06 3-4.
Oakdale, 2:07 1-4.
Robert Milroy, 2:07 1-2.
Cheney, 2:07 1-4.
Rythemell, 2:08.
Ruth McGregor, 2:08 1-4.
Cascade, 2:08 1-4.

Soprano set the record for the Fasig in 1911 at 2:03 3-4. With the battle between these evenly matched horses that is bound to take place, that record is likely to be equalled or better.

Frank Bogash, Jr., a first day winner, is entered in the 2:07 pace, in which Warner Hall, who has recently worked out a mile in 2:06 on the North Randall track will be a strong contender.

Lon McDonald's gelding O'Brien Boy is one of the more favored in the 2:18 class pace, which has only five entries. Only five horses are left to race in the 2:12 trot and they are:

Farra, Grand Marshall, O'Neill, Peter McCormick and Redlac, Jr.

Larger fields and faster time furnished more thrills for the spectators in the second day's races of the opening Grand Circuit meeting yesterday. Warmer weather was in favor of the horses for the deciding of the Forest City, the fastest pacing stake of the meeting.

The race for the 2:24 trot for the biggest purse among the class races of the meeting was perhaps the hardest fought of the day. In the first heat the word was not given until the horses scored the sixth time. Uncle Biff, a Cleveland horse and an overwhelming favorite, showed the way from start to finish, creosote crowding him 100 yards from the wire, with Santos Maid well back.

In the second heat, Uncle Biff held the lead until the stretch, when he tired and Santos Maid and Creosote fought it out, the former winning by a scant margin. Santos Maid led the field all the way in the third heat, Cox bringing Judson Girl up from fifth place when within 200 yards of the wire and finished second.

Four times in the scoring for the start the 2-year-olds in the sweepstakes had to be sent back when one of the fractious colts would break just as the starter was about to give the word. At last they were sent away and the heat developed into a race between Cegantle and Etawah.

One hundred yards from the wire Cegantle broke and barely finished fifth. Sweet Alice, Peter Johnson and Virginia Todd finishing in that order ahead of him. In the second heat Etawah got a flying start and maintained it, the field being well bunched behind him. Cegantle tried in the stretch in spite of Geers' efforts and Peter Johnson overtook him. Although nervous at the start the youngsters trotted beautifully, with the exception of Cegantle's break. Immediately after the race Etawah was sold by his owner, B. W. Whitehead of Murfreesboro, Tenn., to Frank G. Jones of Memphis who will place the blind colt in "Pop" Geers' stable.

Walter Cochato, the favorite in the Forest City stake, could do no better than third in the first heat and second in the next two. Branham Baughman, who was second in the event last year won the first heat. Columbia Fire delayed the second heat by throwing his driver in the air and falling in a heap. After scoring several more times they finally got away. Longworth B. winning by a head in 2:04, within one quarter of a second of the record set last year by Braden Direct. The third heat was a repetition. Murphy driving Longworth B. home in front, hard pressed by Walter Cochato and Knight Onwardo.

After taking the first heat of the 2:09 pace Vera B. owned by J. E. Gray of Toronto, was passed in the stretch by Foote Prince in the next two heats. Vera B. led to the last quarter in the third heat but lost to Foote Prince in a whipping finish.

Effective Home Remedy for Tuberculosis

It is a serious matter when the lungs are affected. A trip away or to a sanatorium is not only expensive, but it involves separation from friends. Some are healed, but few can safely return. Eckman's Alternative is effective for home treatment. For example: 231 S. Atlantic Ave., Haddonfield, N. J. Gentlemen: In the fall of 1901 I contracted a very severe cold which settled on my lungs. At last I began to cough and my physician told me I must go to California immediately. At this time I was advised to take Eckman's Alternative. I started to take it in October. I began to improve and in first week of January, 1902, I resumed my regular occupation, having gained 25 pounds. Fully restored to health it is now five years since my recovery has been effected and I cannot praise Eckman's Alternative too highly. I have recommended it with excellent results. (Signed) W. M. PATRICK, Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles and in upbuilding the system. Do not accept of cheap imitations or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa. for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists in Newark. (Advertisement)

Three Young Phenoms Who Have Made Good This Year in the Big Leagues and are Now Looked on as Stars

At least three stars have been added to the baseball players of the big leagues from the bushes this year: Walter J. Maranville, the brilliant young shortstop of the Boston National league club; Ray Schalk, the wonderful catcher of the Chicago White Sox and Charley Stengel, the outfielder of Brooklyn. Of course other good players have come from the minor leagues, and it is sometimes hard to pick the best of them. But these men have convinced the fans and the managers of the clubs that they are natural players who will hold their own for years to come. Schalk is believed by many to be the best catcher in the American league. Of course he was secured last year, but he played so few games that he merely gave promise, not proof, that he was a great catcher.

AUTOS WRECKED AT WINCHESTER

Carl Berry Sustains Fracture of Ankle—Others Hurt and Frightened—Runaway Accident.

Thornville, O., July 9.—C. J. McLaughlin of this place met with an automobile accident near Canal Winchester while taking a party from here to Columbus. According to eyewitnesses, who were following McLaughlin and another machine were racing at a high speed. McLaughlin lost control of his machine, swerved some distance, and turned turtle. The occupants were dashed out and injured and frightened. State Fire Marshal E. R. Deffenbaugh then ran into the wrecked cars with his machine, throwing the various parts of the machine in every direction. Physicians were dispatched and were soon on the scene. Carl Berry of the McLaughlin party, was the most seriously injured, having his ankle broken and otherwise bruised. The front of McLaughlin's machine was demolished, while the damage to the other machine was not known. Fire Marshal Deffenbaugh's machine is also disabled. The men and women who were bruised and otherwise injured are slowly improving.

Homier Williams, who has been in Texas for several years, is visiting relatives through here.

Mrs. Sherman Custard met with a serious accident while returning home. Driving down the Custard Hill one of the hold-back straps broke, the buggy striking the house, throwing Mrs. Custard out of the rig against a huge stone, cutting her head. The horse ran into Jacob Clum's rig, which was coming up the hill, overturning the horse and buggy and dragging Clum some distance back down the hill. Several people who were on the road helped straighten up the wreck.

A children's meeting service was held at Marsh's M. E. church Sunday evening. The church was crowded and the yard was filled with people.

Earl Clum and Miss Iva McLaughlin, two young people of this place, were quietly married a few days ago. They are now receiving congratulations of their acquaintances and friends.

Sherman Custard has been building an addition to his hay barn the past week.

Several of our citizens attended the funeral of Lewis Lee, aged 59 at Glenford Saturday morning. The deceased was afflicted with organic heart trouble.

A collision between two automobiles occurred Tuesday evening shortly after six o'clock near West Rushville, Ohio, aside from sending both machines to the garage, resulted most fortunately. Dr. Embrey, a Pleasantville dentist, accompanied by Peter Black in a two-passenger Ford, was going up a hill while Mr. Cusick, a druggist from New Lexington in a two-passenger Studebaker car, carrying four passengers, was coming down the hill. Mr. Cusick was unable to control his machine and in skidding it struck the Embrey machine, both being damaged considerably, but fortunately no one was hurt. After the accident would amount to $200. After several hours work on the Cusick machine it was put in shape so that the trip to New Lexington could be made. Just how much damage resulted to the latter machine could not be learned, but it was much more than to the Embrey machine.

TODAY'S RECORD OF THE PUGILISTS

1890—Like Weir, "the Belfast Spider" knocked out "Prof." Jimmy Connors in the 3d round at Buffalo. This was Weir's first battle after losing the world's featherweight title to Australian Billy Murphy at San Francisco and the Belfast boy's victory helped to redeem his reputation as "Prof." Connors, who was athletic instructor at the Buffalo A. C., held the reputation of being a classy boxer.

1903—Charley Greeley held Ad. Volgaist to a draw in 4 rounds at Cadillac.

1909—Danny Webster knocked out Frankie Sullivan in 13th round at San Bernardino.

AUTOMOBILE TURNED COMPLETELY OVER.

Frank Snyder of Brandon sustained a fracture of his collar-bone and other injuries when his automobile turned turtle.

Mr. Snyder was driving east of Brandon, when his machine skidded and went into a ditch. The auto turned completely over, and after righting itself, turned over again, pinning Mr. Snyder under the machine.

Another man who was in the machine jumped and escaped injury. He summoned aid and lifted the auto off of Mr. Snyder.

BUSINESS MEN ORGANIZE A CLUB.

Zanesville, O., July 9.—Following a dinner at the Glenderson hotel a new club was organized among the business men of Zanesville, its object being intellectual and social entertainment. The club membership will be limited to 20. An executive committee composed of W. A. Wilson, H. C. Van Voorhis and James R. Alexander was selected for the year with F. G. Dodd, secretary and W. H. Niekirk, treasurer.

It is the intention of the club to frequently invite men of prominence from out of the city to attend the monthly banquets.

The club is largely modeled after the Twilight club of Wheeling.

YOUNGSTOWN PLAYER SOLD.

Boston, July 9.—The Boston Americans have purchased Catcher Thomas Daley of the Lowell New England league club and Shortstop Scott from the Youngstown team.

Anderson's Condition Serious.

Los Angeles, July 9.—Bud Anderson, the Oregon lightweight boxer, who was defeated by Leach Cross at Vernon on July 4, is in a serious condition in a Santa Monica hospital. The beating he received is believed to have affected his kidneys. Dr. Byron Palmer, the attending physician said that Anderson was "a very sick man."

THOMAS A EDISON'S

Latest and Most Wonderful Invention, Talking Moving Pictures.

To be seen at the Auditorium Thursday, July 10, matinee and evening. The original seven wonders of the world have undergone such modifications that today if the dignitaries who designate them were to be called upon to enumerate the marvels of nature and man's creation they would be unanime in proclaiming Thomas A. Edison, inventive genius, one of the present wonders.

The wizard's latest, and generally conceded most wonderful invention, is the Talking Moving Pictures, which is a thoroughly perfected combination of his two former products—the moving picture and the phonograph. The new marvel simultaneously projects sound and motion, producing an effect that is truly wonderful. It is hard to believe that the action depicted on the screen, with dialogue, music or other sound required and perfectly synchronized, is the result of the perfection of an invention and not the genuine article.

The Edison Talking Moving Pictures are destined to completely revolutionize the amusement world, as through it eventually the greatest theatrical and operatic stars and productions—the discourses of the greatest scientists, statesmen and politicians—may be heard and seen in the remotest hamlet, or preserved for posterity.

The splendid program which will be given here by the Talking Pictures comprises twelve subjects, including comedy, drama, vaudeville, minstrelsy, and two special big features—Mayor Gaynor and his cabinet in executive session, and Votes for Women, a splendid picture posed by the prominent suffragettes of the country. (Adv.)

The Auditorium offers another big special photoplay feature next Monday and Tuesday when Madame Sarah Bernhardt will present "Camille" in three parts and Mme. Refane will put on "Mme. Sans Gene," also in three parts.

The regular program of five reels for 5 cents will be resumed at the Auditorium Friday afternoon and will be continued the balance of the season, only when big specials are on the program.

The feature film "In the Tolls of the Devil" shown in three magnificent parts made a big hit at the Auditorium last night and will be shown again tonight. adv.

MILITARY TRAINING AT GETTYSBURG FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS

(Associated Press Telegram.)

Gettysburg, Pa., July 9.—Coming from as far South as Georgia and from the Northwest as far as Wisconsin, 141 students of 40 colleges and universities began life in camp for instructions yesterday.

They will undergo a course of military training to continue for six weeks under the direction of officers of the regular army. Major McEae of the Fifth Infantry being in command of the company.

Detachments from every branch of the regular service have been detailed for duty with the students.

Full military discipline will be maintained, reveille being sounded at 5 o'clock.

INVITATIONS ON PURE GOLD CARDS

(Associated Press Telegram.)

St. Petersburg, July 9.—Society has been surprised by a remarkable novelty in invitations issued for the golden wedding celebration of M. Spiridovich of Moscow. The hundred invitations were on cards of pure gold, each weighing three-quarters of an ounce, and the words were wrought in enamel.

ROY COLE CHARGED WITH BURGLARY

Charged with burglarizing the warehouse of his brother, Roy Cole was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Patrolmen Abbott, Stewart and Wagonman Goff. The arrest was made at the Cole warehouse, rear of 59 South Fourth street, where the prisoner was found by the officers while he was "doing some plumbing" about the place.

Wednesday morning an affidavit was filed against Roy by his brother C. H. Cole, charging burglary with intent to steal articles of value from the place.

Roy entered a plea of not guilty to the charge and waived his right to a preliminary examination and was bound over to the grand jury, his bond being fixed at $500.

Roy told the officers that he was looking over the plumbing in the building and that he had no evil intentions.

"KENTUCKY SLIM"

Name Found on Card Carried by a Burglar Trying to Enter a Chicago Residence.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, Ill., July 9.—A burglar was captured in Morgan Park last night as he was trying to force his way into the home of Arthur J. Rich, at 10,745 Groveland avenue.

The man carried a full set of burglar's tools. He had been boring a hole in the basement door. In his possession were found a loaded revolver, a knife, several gimlets, a screw driver and other tools.

On the back of a meal ticket he carried was written "Kentucky Slim." He says that he comes from Lexington, Ky.

OVERHEARD on OLYMPUS by Barbara Boyd

The Tragic Side of Marriage

MELPOMENE, the muse of tragedy, was sitting in a brown study. "Prithce, why so rapt, fair maiden, prithce, why so rapt?" enquired Melpomene, dropping on the moss beside her.

"My line of business requires deep thought," replied Melpomene. "I see the scientists are just now giving me a boost," she went on. "They say tragedy as enacted on the stage has far better effects on the human race than comedy."

"Indeed!" exclaimed Momus, straightening himself indignantly. "I like that. Just as if anybody ever thought it better to weep than to laugh."

"But it is," insisted Melpomene. "Tragedy, according to the scientists is a psychic catharsis. It releases the suppressed complexes."

"That sounds like it," said Momus. "If you can get anybody to take tragedy for any such reason as that, they deserve all that comes to them. If I had a business that had to be bolstered up in that way, I think I would get a vocational expert to ferret me out a new one."

"Of course, one couldn't expect a light-headed fellow like you to take much interest in real scientific reasons. But I am glad science is back of what I offer people. But I have gotten way off what I was thinking about when you came up."

"What was it?" asked Momus, glad to change the subject.

"I was just figuring out, which would make the better heroine for a tragedy—the woman a man should have married and didn't or the woman he shouldn't have married and did."

"I don't think there's much tragedy about that," scoffed Momus. "You don't," replied Melpomene, indignantly. "Either is one of the most tragic things that could happen. Take for instance, the woman he should have married and didn't. Think how her life is affected. She misses what ought to come to her. She may live thereafter any one of a dozen kinds of lives, none of which however is the right one. As for him, he also has missed the best. The keynote would be loss of good. Now take it the other way. He married the woman he shouldn't. How is that going to work out for him? For her? Will they make the best of it? Will the keynote be self-sacrifice and character development; or will they grow bitter and go wrong?"

Momus shouted with laughter. "You are a perfect heathen," exclaimed Melpomene, indignantly. "More than that, you've got such a habit of laughing, you haven't sense enough to know when to laugh and when not to."

"Think of making a tragedy of that idea of yours," he chuckled.

"Why, Mel, old girl, if he marries the wrong one, all he's got to do is to get a divorce and marry the other. There isn't any tragedy about that."

"That's all you know about it," replied Melpomene. "Let me tell you of a tragedy of the wrong person or getting a divorce is one of the biggest 'ragdies' of life."

"Well, I don't mind telling you privately," said Momus, sobering. "Though I don't want you to repeat it that I think, myself, people are taking life a little too superficially. I'm the advocate of a good laugh, as you know. But I really don't care for flippancy, though that sort of thing is being palmed off nowadays for humor. Privately, I don't care to see people make a joke of divorce and such things. But they do. And I have an idea a tragedy along the line you suggest would fall flat. I think in spite of psychic catharsis and suppressed complexes, your business will soon be dead one. You had better throw it over and go into partnership with me."

But Melpomene indignantly refused the offer, and began jotting down the line of argument for her new work.

EXHIBITION MATCH AT COUNTRY CLUB IS NOW ARRANGED

The exhibition match between Harry Waters and Jack Munro, the Scotch golfers who are now in Newark, will probably be commenced next Saturday afternoon, as both of the men have consented to enter the match, and the details are being worked out so that in all probability Newark lovers of good sport and especially those interested in golf will have the rare treat of seeing these men in action. It is expected that the match will be a 36-hole affair, meaning 4 rounds of the 9 holes at the Country Club. The exhibition will be played the first afternoon, which will be Saturday, and the second half of the match will probably be played the following afternoon.

These exhibition matches are recognized as very interesting affairs in the East and of interest in England and Scotland they take precedence over almost all other sports. In the places where golf has been played for a number of years, a large gallery follows the crack players and keen interest is manifested in every clever stroke, and in every brilliant attempt to extricate oneself from a bad lie in the rough.

The detailed arrangements of the match will be announced later so that all who wish to view the exhibition will have due notice of the day and hour.

THROWN FROM WAGON WHEN HIS TEAM RAN AWAY

Ed. Leonard, 41 Vine street, a driver for the Phil Vogelmeier transfer company, sustained serious bruises and had a narrow escape from serious injury in a runaway accident Tuesday evening.

Leonard was driving one of two teams sent to the country with a monument. On the return trip one of the reins broke as his team was coming down a hill a half mile south of Second street and began running.

Leonard was thrown into the highway and the wagon passed over his body. The fall and weight of the wagon so injured the man that Chris Bronk, ambulance man, called to bring him to his home.

Dr. W. R. Turner attended Leonard and reported no bones broken and no evidence of serious internal injury.

DAMAGE SUIT IS FILED AGAINST GRIFFITH JONES

As an aftermath to the indictment and subsequent acquittal of aged Griffith Jones, of near Granville, on a charge of shooting 14-year-old Dewey Young with intent to wound, comes a suit for $10,000 damages, filed in Common Pleas court, Wednesday.

It will be recalled that Jones contended he was shooting at a dog.

The petition filed Wednesday by Russell and Jones & Jones, on behalf of the boy, merely states that an assault occurred on March 10, and that Jones shot the Young boy in the back of the head, neck and shoulders, making him a cripple. He has been partly paralyzed since the affair, it is said.

The recent grand jury indicted the aged farmer on a charge of shooting to wound. He was tried before a jury which returned a verdict of acquittal. There seemed to be a question as to whether the boys were on Jones' property when the shooting occurred.

ZANESVILLE WILL SEND 17 GOLFERS

SUBMITS TO OPERATION FOR APPENDICITIS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, July 9.—William F. McCombs, chairman of the Democratic National committee, who is regarded as the probable new ambassador to France, was operated on for appendicitis at a private hospital in Paris, according to advices received here. The operation is reported to have been wholly successful, and no complications are expected.

Mr. McCombs went to Paris lately knowing that he was suffering with appendicitis but hopeful that a rest abroad would eliminate the necessity for an operation.

A vessel was recently launched in the Puget Sound with steam up, ready to proceed on her way.

Sage Tea Is Harmless Way To Darken Gray, Faded Hair

Mixed With Sulphur Makes Hair Soft, Lustrous and Cures Dandruff.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance the simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out of date. Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, which is usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's" which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known down-town druggist says his customers insist on Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because, they say, it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with the mixture and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant. Hall's Drug Store, 10 North Side Square, agent. adv.

Uncle Walt's Philosophy

The High Cost

It costs us so much for the things that we eat, for the tags for our backs and the shoes for our feet, for tires and repairs for our red motor cars, we must be contented with five-cent cigars! With gowns for the women and things for the kids, with stockings and do-dies and ribbons and lids, a man is so busted that when he would dine, he has to drink water—he can't afford wine. The bills from the butcher are now coming in; the grocer is calling for all kinds of tin; my dreams of an outing, I see, were in vain. I cannot indulge in a swift aeroplane. The cost of existence increases each day; the man who sells diamonds insists on his pay; the tailor, with duns in his pocket, is here; I can't go to Europe, I'm fearing, this year. There's something awry in this country, I know, the more a man squanders the poorer he'll grow; he can't buy a thing—it's a sin and a shame—but he is expected to pay for the same. Alas for that era no modern man sees, when money was growing on gooseberry trees! Alas for that epoch when greenbacks were found, blown down from the bushes and strewn on the ground!

—Uncle Walt

OLD DANCE TUNES.

When the fiddlers played "Turkey in the Straw," "Old Zip Coon," etc., some of the Confederates at Gettysburg dropped their suit cases in the dusty road, and toed out the old measures until the musicians could saw on no longer.

Where are the dance tunes of today that will set the present set of boys and girls to footing it out on some 50 year day in the dim future?

A certain school of dance music familiar to our fathers, and heard within comparatively few years now seems almost to have disappeared. "Irish Washerwoman," "Money Musk," were examples of whole libraries of merry jigs. They were simple, homely little airs, suggesting breakdowns in farm house kitchens, and dances of the squirrel tail hand tub company.

There was a kinkiness about these little measures, a rollicking quality, that modern machine tunes, sawed off by the yard to sell to music publishers, fail to show. This quality inspired very agile and individual manners on the dance floor.

In the old "contra dances" many people were not satisfied with the standard movements taught by dancing masters. They had individual kinks and pranks, which they kicked out to suit themselves. Some would become famous for these originalities. Visitors would come for miles around to see noted dancers go through the standard measures with their own variations.

The new style turkey trots and tangos are a revival of this taste for more vigorous and individual dancing. But they seem to run to sex suggestion, and less to pure physical merriment and high spirits. One would go a long way to see those old "Johnny Rebs" of '63 do "Turkey in the Straw" on the road to Gettysburg.

ON SECOND THOUGHT

Times have changed. Nowadays when Greek meets Greek they pool their savings and start a fruit stand.

Up to the time a man is thirty he believes love to be the greatest thing in the world. After he is thirty it gradually dawns upon him that hope is the greatest thing.

Newadays a farmer is a landed gentleman. But formerly he was a man who gave his son a calf to raise in the spring, and who sold it, putting the proceeds of the sale in his own pocket, in the fall.

"He is so stupid," said Eph Wiley yesterday in discussing one of his employees, "that when the wind blows his hat off he chases it himself."

The men are so tied up by statutory enactment that Tank Beverly predicts the privilege of sitting cross-legged, which is about the only one they have left, will shortly be taken away from them.

The rule relating to most wills is that the relatives of the deceased are the heirs and the lawyers the beneficiaries of the estate.

Eph Wiley says it is worth whatever it costs to escape a woman who will sue for breach-of-promise.

Buck Kilby, who has just returned from New York, says he saw a dancer there who was barefoot to her eyebrows.

Sympathy for Rip Van Winkle is due to the fact that he was a drunkard and a loafer. Had Rip been sober and industrious the public would have shown no interest in him.

Wisdom from Washington

Washington, July 9.—[Special.]—Democratic leaders are as much interested in preventing legislation as getting through those bills which the president has said must be passed. There are a lot of minor measures that might pass without resistance, but the trouble is that several men are waiting for an opportunity to push forward public measures in which they are much interested.

Most important among such measures is the immigration bill, which was vetoed by President Taft in the last congress and narrowly missed passing by a two-thirds vote over the veto. In all probability the immigration bill is stronger now than when it passed last winter. At least the inference is that the larger Democratic majority would favor it. But there is also the suspicion that the Democrats in the last congress were playing that old game of "putting it up to Taft," which was rather popular during the last half of the late Republican administration.

The President's Position.
The president's ideas about restrictive immigration has not been disclosed, but in his writings before he came to high official station he showed an indication toward greater restriction. It is not likely that he would veto a bill such as passed the last congress, but it is expected that a stronger measure will be put forward when opportunity affords, as there is quite a growing sentiment in favor of cutting down the immigration from Europe to this country.

The Canadian Menace.
In connection with the immigration question is the menace of Canadian absorption which has been going on for so many years and which has kept the Mississippi valley states at almost a standstill in population. "We are taking in the raw material from Europe," remarked a statesman several years ago, "and turning out the finished product for the benefit of Canada."

Many reasons are given why Canada has proven so attractive, but probably the best is that it is the "last west." That region is the last large tract on the North American continent that can be developed into agricultural communities. The hunger for something new in the way of titillable lands caused the development and settlement of America step by step. The Canadian development will be checked only by the frozen north. At the same time we would like to have our people remain at home, and beyond question they will be better off in the end if they stay in this country.

They Take an Interest.
More interest has been taken in the president's room in the senate wing of the capitol than ever before, due to the fact that President Wilson has made use of it for talking business with congressmen. It was always a show place, but now every guide tells his interested listeners how President Wilson has created an innovation by coming to congress frequently.

Clerks Are Working.
"The dear people" are not going without literature this year. Even if members of the house are away from Washington, work by their clerks does not cease. Nearly every office room at the capitol is a hive of industry, and millions of speeches are being mailed over the country to instruct the voters as to what the different members had to say about the tariff. We knew much was said on that bill for "home consumption" and the loads of mail dispatched daily only confirm those views.

Marshall's Plea.
As usual in the senate when an interesting debate is going on no one follows the rules and addresses the chair and asks permission to interrupt the man who happens to be talking. That happened not long ago, and after a time the vice president tapped lightly with his gavel and remarked:

"The chair desires to announce that the chair seems not to be addressed and has not been today."

"The chair is quite correct," apologized Senator Lodge, and then the debate went on as before Mr. Marshall made his plea.

WOULDN'T BE LOW.
"I understand that Mrs. D. Style is a great stickler for having everything of the most exclusive kind."

"Yes," she disdained her doctor because he told her that her temperature was too low."—Exchange.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Why Daddy Got A Very Small Piece of Pie

JACK sometimes made funny mistakes about figures. Evelyn often laughed at him and teased him about them.

"There!" said daddy one evening as the children came upstairs after having a little tiff as to whether a third was larger than a quarter of anything.

As daddy said "there" he took two apples and divided them into thirds and quarters. Then he offered Jack his choice of a piece of apple.

Jack giggled as he instantly replied that he would have a third of the apple. He could see that the third of an apple was larger than a quarter.

"That's the way I learned fractions," daddy explained.

"I remember that one day we had the most delicious peach pie. I was very fond of peach pie.

"When it was time to serve it mother asked grandpa how much he thought he could eat.

"I'll take a quarter," grandpa said. He also was very, very fond of peach pie and ate it with sugar and cream.

"It was father's turn next, and he said he thought a sixth of a pie would be about enough for him.

"Grandma laughed, for she didn't eat pie. Then she said to me, 'And how much will you take?'

"I thought very hard, for I wanted the very largest piece of pie I could get. The larger the number sounded the larger the piece of pie ought to be, according to the way I misunderstood fractions then.

"So I spoke right up and said I wanted a sixteenth of the pie.

"Grandpa looked surprised, and father, who understood my mistake, coughed to hide a laugh.

"Are you quite sure you want a sixteenth of the pie?" grandma asked, looking very much puzzled.

"Yes'm. I can eat it all myself," I replied, supposing she thought a whole sixteenth too much for me.

"Mother merely smiled and took one of the little plates on which she gave us our pie. She measured the pie very carefully, so she could see just how much I ought to get. You can imagine how big one of the pieces would be if a pie was divided into sixteen whole pieces.

"She gravely put the morsel of pie on my plate and handed it to me. I ate it and was so ashamed of having made such a blunder that I didn't ask for any more. But the next time any one talked about sixteenths I knew what they meant."

The Human Procession

Although he was baffled by Mount McKinley, and it was left to another to be the first to reach the "top of the North American continent," Prof. Herschel Clifford Parker has made enough "first ascents" to entitle him to rank as one of the world's foremost mountain climbers. The distinguished physicist of Columbia University and "conqueror of the Canadian Alps" was born in Brooklyn forty-six years ago today, July 9, 1871.

Graduating from the Columbia School of Mines in 1890, he joined the faculty of the famous New York university, and was successively tutor, instructor, assistant professor and professor of physics. In his youth he was an ardent mountain climber, and the passion grew with the passing years. His first noteworthy expedition was to the Canadian Rockies in 1897, and he again visited that section in 1899 and 1893. He was the first to make the ascent of Mount Goodrich and Dawson, in British Columbia, and Hungabee, Deltaform, Biddle, and Lefroy in Alberta.

Seven years ago Prof. Parker made his first attempt to scale Mt. McKinley, Alaska, which "Doc" Cook claimed to have "climbed," although it is now practically certain that he came no nearer to reaching the "top of the continent" than the North Pole. The first essay was a failure, and twice afterward Prof. Parker returned to the assault, but had to turn back each time with his ambition unfulfilled. Last year he came within 300 feet of the topmost point, when a raging blizzard and intense cold forced a retreat. Recently the coveted goal was reached by Archdeacon Hudson Stuck, a muscular Anglican missionary in Alaska.

Although he is best known as an alpinist, Prof. Parker has other claims to fame. He was one of the discoverers of "helium," and has also carried on researches in various branches of electrical science, including incandescent electric lighting and electrical measurements.

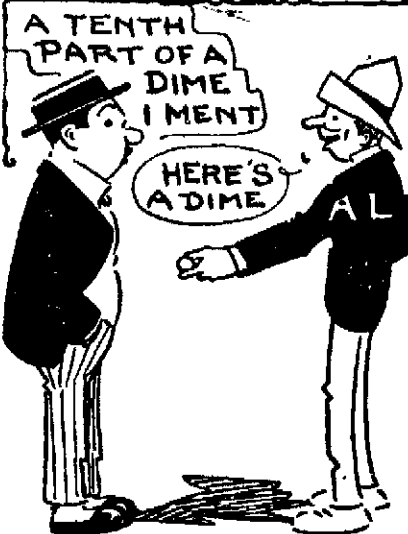

Viscount Charles Marsham Marsham, scion of one of the oldest families of the British nobility, will attain his majority today, having been born on July 9, 1892. The young Viscount is the oldest son and heir of the fifth Earl of Romney. The family tree of the Romneys has its roots in the Norfolk of the 12th century, and the town of Marsham, in that county, was for centuries the family seat. The first baronet, created two and a half centuries ago, was the son of a London merchant, prince of the time, and suffered for his adherence to the royalist cause. The title of Baron of Romney was conferred on one of his descendants in 1716. The first Viscount Marsham was created in 1801, and the earldom of Romney in 1801.

Another heir to an ancient title, Lord Francis Douglas Stuart-Gray Doune, oldest son of the seventeenth Earl of Moray, will pass his twenty-first birthday tomorrow. The first Earl of Moray, created in 1551, was regent of Scotland, and was assassinated. The second Earl shared the same fate, being murdered by the first Marquis of Huntley, as the result of a hereditary feud.

Frederick William Seward, son of Secretary of State William H. Seward, Lincoln's famous adviser, and himself assistant secretary of state in the administrations of President Lincoln and Johnson, was born in Auburn, N. Y., eighty-three years ago today. He was nearly murdered in defending his father against the assassins who sought to kill him, as well as Lincoln. Mr. Seward was long prominent in law and politics, but his later years have been spent in a quiet retreat on the Hudson, at Montrose.

MAY MARKET FROZEN EGGS AT TRENTON

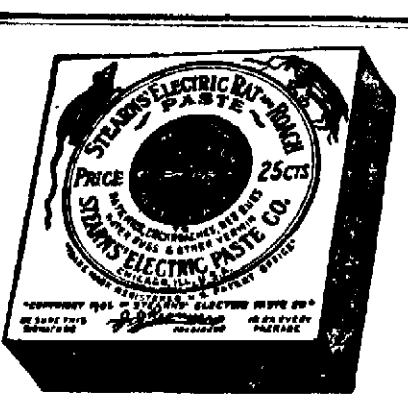

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Trenton, N. J., July 9.—The state board of health is considering the proposition of releasing for sale 400 cases of frozen eggs seized by the Federal government here three years ago. At a hearing of the case Prof. W. G. Sedgwick, of Stevens Institution of Technology appeared as an expert witness and furnished surprising testimony by declaring that the three-year old eggs were still perfectly healthful and edible. All that now stands between the eggs and the public is an order of the state board of health releasing them from the storage.

MAY ABANDON WORK ON HAWAII NAVAL POST

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, July 9.—Secretary Daniels will decide whether the great naval post at Hawaii shall be completed according to the original plan or work on it be abandoned. The decision will depend on the recommendation of Admiral Stanford, head of the yards and docks investigating the recent accident to the work, in which the bottom of the great work collapsed when the water was withdrawn. F. R. Harris, an engineer of the department has made a complete report on the conditions existing at the works.

Good news in Classified Columns.

"If the enemies of the I. and R. think because there have been wholesale frauds in the use of the referendum that the I. and R. will be blotted out of the constitution, they are greatly mistaken. The crooks will go to the penitentiary, but the I. and R. will remain in force and use."—James M. Cox.

Governor Cox's Righteous Fight for the People and the State's Good Name

The righteous action of Governor James M. Cox in aiding the exposure of the forged referendum petition scandal is assailed by Charles S. Gongwer, of Cleveland, Secretary of the so-called "Equity Association," of that city, who makes a great bluff that also deserves exposure as much as the original crime of forging the names to the petition.

Gongwer gave out a statement yesterday "promising to join the Governor in any honest effort to punish law violators," but at the same time he attacked the "sincerity of the Governor in the spectacular campaign he has inaugurated, and asserted it was for political effect and deliberately designed to intimidate those who are endeavoring to secure referendums on what he termed obnoxious laws and has promised that, despite all, there would be referendums."

But the fact is that the referendum petitions contain thousands of forged signatures, and somebody committed those forgeries.

Nothing is plainer than that this statement of Gongwer's is a bluff pure and simple, and it looks decidedly more like an effort to protect this transaction of wholesale forgery than to aid in any prosecution of the guilty perpetrators of the fraud.

There would have been no forged referendum petitions if this man Gongwer had not hired the men who circulated the petitions on which the thousands of forged names are found by the exposure.

The enormity of this crime against the state should rally the people to the support of the gallant Governor and uphold him in his honest effort to protect the people's rights, their interests, and the state's good name.

FIGHTING NATURE IN HOT WEATHER

The people who complain most of heat are not those who live in warm climates. They learn to adjust themselves. It is in temperate latitudes that hot weather runs against all business and social arrangements.

If man fitted his movements to the laws of nature, he would rise in summer at 4 a. m., and begin his work at five or soon after. By eleven o'clock, when heat becomes burdensome, the bulk of his day's labor would be done and work laid aside, to be resumed if necessary for a time in the late afternoon.

Modern life is a complicated machine, and it seems impossible to shift its workings even where health and comfort require it. But a good many people are beginning to feel that an earlier start in summer would be both healthful and pleasant. The old time farmers always knew the advantage of a five o'clock start, though their devotion to toil often led them to omit the noon day rest that should correspond.

It is generally felt, while the modern sized trunks are too heavy that porters and hackmen always enjoy showing off what big weights they can lift.

In Society

Fascinating and one of the most phenomenal successes of the season was the presentation of "The Bachelor's Dream" at the Country Club Tuesday evening. "The Bachelor's Dream" was written by Mr. Harry Fulton, who is now home on his vacation from the east. A reverie of eighteen verses were read by the author, while the different characters of his dream were portrayed in pantomime by members of the club. The personality of Erwing Webb in the role of the bachelor was very much appreciated, as he seemed to have been cut out for the pantomimic part of this sketch. As Mr. Webb sat, his reverie, the girls whom he saw in his dream, filed in through the door, one at a time, and the effect of their spectacular costumes added to the originality of the whole production under the spotlight had a very pleasing and entrancing effect.

For the author, Mr. Harry Fulton, much praise is expressed. The originality of the idea and the cleverness of the verse made the sketch a wonderful success.

Girls from all parts of the world, and girls in all the walks of life, from the soubrette to the faded maidens of Japan, were portrayed in his dream. Immediately preceding the sketch J. Dale McNamar gave several impersonations which were followed by a song and piano recital by Miss Courtney.

The members of the Tuesday Afternoon Bridge club were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Frank Webb at her home in Granville street on the club day of this week. Following the game the souvenirs were awarded to Mrs. Kemper Scott and Miss Katherine Courtney of Mobile, Ala.

The refreshment was served on the lawn to the members and the following guests: Mrs. J. J. Carroll, Mrs. Joseph Sprague, Mrs. Robbins Hunter, Mrs. Howard Jones, Mrs. A. R. Pitser, Mrs. Fred Mosteller, Mrs. J. S. Jones of Granville and Miss Courtney of Mobile, Ala.

BELL-WORLEY.
On Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock Rev. G. W. Tyler, pastor of the United Brethren church, solemnized the marriage of Mr. Delno Bell and Miss Eva E. Worley. The bride and groom were accompanied by Mrs. Worley of Curtis avenue. The groom resides near Utica, while his bride is a resident of St. Louisville. Mr. and Mrs. Bell will make their home near Utica.

The Colonial Sewing Circle will meet on Thursday afternoon, July 10, with Mrs. Burton in Woods avenue. An election of officers will be held and other business of importance transacted. All members are requested to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Savey of North avenue, left today for Logan, O., to spend a few days with Mr. Savey's parents, who will on Saturday, July 12, celebrate their sixtieth wedding anniversary. The celebrants are the oldest couple living in Logan.

The Woman's Guild of the First M. E. church will meet in the Sunday school room on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The San Sude club met yesterday evening with Miss Nellie Frenier of St. Clair street. Euchre was the feature of the evening, after which luncheon was served. The prizes were awarded to Misses Carry Summers and to Esle Hand.

The C. A. C. held a social last night at the Modern Woodmen's hall in South Park Place.

Foreclosure Suits.
Two foreclosure suits were filed in Common Pleas court Wednesday. One is that of the P. Smith Lumber company vs. James E. Sherrard, et al., asking foreclosure on three Newark township lots mortgaged to secure a note of $292.98, part of which is alleged past due.

Another was that of George T. Street, as trustee under the will of John W. Street vs. Albert R. and Hannah R. Johnson, asking foreclosure on property in the Wehrle addition mortgaged to secure a promissory note for $500. The former was filed by Fitzgibbon, Montgomery & Black and the latter by Jones & Jones.

Files Answer.
Frank Graef filed answer and cross petition in Common Pleas court, Wednesday, by his attorney, L. C. Russell, against his wife, who recently brought suit for divorce, alleging extreme cruelty and infidelity.

A Rain Preventer.
About fifty years ago an invention was announced which would be acclaimed with joy just now. A German, Helmutus Otto, stated that he had discovered a means of preventing rain.

He built a platform on which were placed some huge bellows worked by steam at a very high pressure. These were supposed to blow away any clouds gathered above. Otto maintained that these "pluvifuges" distributed throughout a town would enable the authorities to insure dry weather for so long as they thought fit. The inventor bore a high reputation in the scientific world, and his pluvifuge attracted attention. But it never proved practicable, and after a few months' experiments Otto gave up trying to fight the weather.

Daniel Was a Worker.
Truly there were giants in colonial days. One Daniel Leake of Salisbury, N. H., made during his lifetime and was paid for 1,000,000 shingles. During the years he was accomplishing this colossal work he cleared 300 acres of land, tapped for twenty years at least 600 maple trees, making sometimes 4,000 pounds of sugar a year. He could mow six acres a day, giving nine tons of hay. His strong, long arms cut a swath twelve feet wide. In his spare time he worked as a cooper, and he was a famous drum maker.

First Things

The first successful sewing machine was the invention of Elias Howe, who was born at Spencer, Mass., ninety-four years ago today. After a meager country school education he became a mechanic, and he was only a youth when he began his efforts to invent a method of sewing by a machine. English, French and American inventors held similar ambitions, but their machines were not successful. A machine that would really sew was completed by Howe in 1845 and patented the following year. For years he sought, both in America and England to bring his machine to public attention. In the meantime others began the manufacture of machines and Howe was forced to appeal to the courts. In 1854 he attained success in his legal battle, and built a factory with a capacity of 100 machines a day at Bridgeport, Conn. Royalties from his invention made him a multi-millionaire before he died in 1867. Plans for honoring Howe on the occasion of the centenary of his birth, six years hence are already being considered.

OHIO'S INLAND SEASHORE.

Buckeye Lake Has Been Appropriately Called the "Atlantic City of the Middle West"—Its Unsurpassed Attractions and Congenial Society Draw Many Visitors From Eastern Cities.

A PROMINENT PHYSICIAN of Columbus, O., recently remarked that the American people are just beginning to realize the necessity for resting, for taking a summertime vacation of a week or two, where they will have change of scene, fresh air and sunshine. The advent of the heated season, which is now upon us, brings home the words of the doctor with added weight. It is essential not only for the hard business man to find a place once a year where he may forget there is such a thing as work, except healthful outdoor exercise, but also for the tired wife to rest, and for his children, leaving school, to have some rest where they will not be bothered by books and can give full rein to their animal spirits. A coat of tan is worn more to a high school boy than a lawn decoration he has cramped to acquire, and which is doomed soon to be forgotten.

A Buckeye Lake Vacation. So, up lobs the annual question: Where shall I spend my vacation? To the majority of people a water-side vacation is the most desirable. The invigorating breeze from a body of water will put new life into an old man and instill an appetite that craves four meals a day. It is not necessary to go to the seashore to get the benefits of a stay on the water-front. There are many inland bodies of water that are accessible. For those living in the middle west, especially the central and southern parts of Ohio, Buckeye Lake, thirty miles from Columbus, is a chain stretched across the water, maintaining the danger line for them. A boy or young girl are gazing over their attempts to duck one of their number and a general holiday spirit prevails.

Every afternoon and evening the young folks gather at the park dance pavilion. There are other pavilions along the lake, but the one at Buckeye Lake park gives by far the most popular arena the better class of visitors because of the excellence of the music furnished and the higher tone of its personnel. The nautical costumes of the Buckeye Lake Yacht club are flash among the summer dresses of the college girls and the rambles and serges of their masculine friends. The dancing pavilion is just on the water's edge, and viewed at night from a boat on the lake looks like a fairy palace, with its myriads of electric lights.

A skating rink, arcades and various amusement devices furnish additional recreation to park visitors. Excursion boats leave the piers every few minutes for all points on the lake, and a dozen small motor boats just received this season are for hire to anyone who can run them.

High Class Chautauqua. Just west of the park on the lake front is the new building of the Buckeye Lake Yacht club, opened this season for the first time. Its broad verandas afford a sweeping view of the lake, and its bathhouses harbor all sorts of craft. Along the wooded and with a few flying striders Brother Bob and the girls are across the boat landing, splashing in the cool blue depths. Father and mother are not far behind them. Luncheon is waiting when they come out.

After luncheon father and mother decide to take one of the boats that ply the lake and run down to Summerland Beach, where they spend the afternoon at the Chautauqua. The young folks are off on plans for attending a hotel party which is being given by some young acquaintances on the other side of the lake. Brother Bob brings "Bessie," the little family launch, around to the landing, and they go on, changing across the lake to their friends' bungalow.

In the evening the house party charters a big launch for a ride over the waters, now glowing scarlet with the sunset, to one of the hotels, where they have dinner. Then back they go through the dusk to the park. Some of the boys get out their mandolins and guitars and the tinkling music floats over the water in the wake of the launch. A burst of electric lights as they round a point shows them they are nearing the park. The launch lands and the laughing young folks scramble out. The remainder of the evening dies quickly while they dance at the park pavilion to the music of an orchestra that plays and sings.

By 11 o'clock Brother Bob and the girls are in bed, talking in whispers so as not to disturb father and mother, through the door separating their rooms, about a resatta that is to be held on the morrow by the Yacht club.

How Dreams Come True.

Visions of days spent like this floating through the brain of the worker as he toils through these heat-ridden weeks must cause a sigh of longing. Perhaps he pushes the thought of a vacation from his mind with the conclusion that it is too expensive. A vacation at Buckeye Lake is not costly. Round trip tickets from Columbus via the Ohio Electric railway cost only 75 cents. Hotel rates in all the summer places about the lake are exceptionally low, and fully furnished cottages can be rented for moderate cost. Boats with fresh eggs, milk, butter, vegetables and ice deliver these necessities at the cottages. Living expenses at the lake are even lower than living expenses in the average city.

The wholesome results of a vacation are manifold. Renewed physical vigor and a fresh outlook on affairs count for something, but best of all is the new grip it gives the vacationist on the work to come. In the conservation of his bodily and mental resources, making him a better worker. It is worth considerable to him in actual money value.

CAMP SCENE AT BUCKEYE LAKE PARK.

To the vacation seeker Buckeye Lake offers all the facilities for boating, bathing, fishing and amusement features possessed by any of the more expensive watering places, and a high grade Chautauqua in addition.

Best of all it offers many opportunities for the acquisition of that vigor and health which are the chief objects of a summer vacation. It is easily accessible from Columbus, the central city of Ohio. Buckeye Lake differs chiefly from the ocean and Great Lakes resorts inasmuch as the visitor at these places pays a high price for the same advantages he receives for moderate cost at the "Atlantic City of the Middle West."

Approved by the Mayor this 14th day of June, 1913.

FINE SHOWER VISITS COUNTY EARLY TODAY

A light but welcome shower visited Newark early Wednesday morning, but failed to come up to expectations in that it didn't last long enough to furnish the benefit that was needed. It gave some relief in the morning's temperature, but was confined to a comparatively small area.

Farmers throughout the county report great need of rain to help the growing corn, which has now reached a very promising stage of development, with indications of a big crop for the fall. The north and east ends of the county are particularly in need of rain, and light showers such as that of Wednesday morning would be welcomed by the farmers if they came in greater frequency.

Rivarol's Wit. Antoine Rivarol, the French epigrammatist of the eighteenth century, was so brilliant that something good was expected of him every minute. Once when he had been invited to dinner, at which the hostess especially wished him to shine, he sat quite silent. The attitude of disappointed expectancy in the company nettled him, and at last Rivarol made a stupid remark. Everybody uttered an exclamation.

"There," said Rivarol, "I cannot say a stupid thing without every one crying, 'Thief!'"

At a dinner in the house of some Germans he made a joke. His hosts put their heads together inquiringly. Rivarol said to his neighbor, a Frenchman:

"Look at the German pooling their wits to understand a joke."

AT THE WEDDING. John's mother: Were you nervous during the ceremony? Helen: Well, I lost my self-possession when papa gave me away to Charley-Jane.

INJURED WHEN PLANK FELL ON YOUTH'S HEAD

Abe Frenier, son of L. Jinks Frenier of St. Clair street was seriously injured while working at the American Bottle company on Tuesday afternoon.

While engaged at his duties a two inch plank slipped and in falling struck Frenier on the head. He was hurried to the office of Dr. D. H. Miller in West Locust street, where an examination showed that a gash two and one-half inches long had been cut in the scalp. The wound required several stitches. He was later taken to his home in St. Clair street.

He had not made arrangements as to bail, but would look after this matter, he said, after he had consulted with attorneys.

Judge Osborne set the hearing in the case for July 11. Vincent was brought here from Cincinnati early today by detectives.

A movement was started at once to procure Vincent's release and the detectives decided to leave with him at once. Starting at 11 o'clock they drove to Loveland where they took a train at 2:20 this morning for Columbus.

Vincent is 28 years old, and worked in Cincinnati as a steam fitter. He has a wife and a son. He is said to have solicited signatures to the referendum at five cents a piece.

Vincent in a statement today reiterated his innocence of the charges preferred against him.

The detectives hurried him away from Cincinnati last night, fearing legal measures might be taken to hold him. He was brought to Loveland by auto and from there to Columbus by train, arriving here early today.

The affidavit charging him with perjury says in substance that on June 9, of this year, Vincent swore before J. Edward Butler, notary, that seventy signatures which he had obtained upon petition No. 3386 to be used in a referendum of the Green workmen compulsory compensation act were true signatures, whereas subsequent developments show they are false. The warrants charging perjury were prepared late yesterday in the Attorney General's office and Detective Shellenbarger and Creighton left Columbus at 5:30. When they reached Cincinnati they took Vincent in charge at 10 o'clock. He had been arrested by Detective Shaffer, who was said to have had a chase after the man.

At the Governor's office early today it was apparent that further sensational developments in connection with the referendum alleged forgeries were scheduled to come out during the day. Democratic State Chairman W. L. Finley, who is one of Governor Cox's chief advisers in the referendum fight, was closeted with the Governor for more than an hour early in the day and attaches of the Attorney General's office also spent considerable time talking to the Governor about impending new moves.

A score of blank warrants were prepared today by the Attorney General's office ready for instant use. They are directed against the men who made affidavits to petitions that the names contained therein were genuine, and charge perjury. Persons convicted stand liable to an indeterminate penitentiary sentence of from three to ten years.

The following statement was given out at the Governor's office:

"It will be useless for the enemies of the initiative and referendum to attempt to make out of the fraud and forgery revelations any argument against this principle of government."

"We began an investigation of this matter in order that the dignity of a genuine democracy might be maintained. No one has ever feared the result of submitting the workmen's compensation law to the people. It is the duty of public officials, however, to see that the referendum is not fraudulently invoked because that is a plain infraction of the law. It must be born in mind that the interests that are now quailing before the startling and sensational revelations are the very same that fought the initiative and referendum and the workmen's compensation. It is their business to discredit the initiative and referendum in Ohio. No one contends that the present law is perfect. The claim, however, that the percentage is too low is obviously absurd for the reason that the crooks who have been seeking to impose fraud and perjury on the people have found it impossible to procure a petition on the six per cent basis. The only change necessary in the law is to make it an offense to circulate a petition for pay."

"The revelations of today continue just as startling as ever. Auditor John Dodds from Pickaway county, reports that of the 2230 names they are unable to find a single citizen who signed the petition. The names of men who have been dead over ten years are on the list."

"In Fairfield county one of the county commissioners, Mr. Duncan, lives in another country. However, he owns property in the city and his name appears on the petition as a resident of Lancaster."

"The Noble county list has been gone over completely. The petition carries 210 names. It develops now that only two men signed it. Springfield submits information of wholesale fraud and forgery. The same report comes from Piqua."

Columbus, July 9.—Former Prosecutor H. S. Kerr, who has been retained to defend Vincent, held a short conference with the latter today. Mr. Kerr said that he could not say yet whether an effort would be made to get his client released on bail or not. "Of course, I think they have not a good case against Vincent, or I would not be in the case," said Kerr. "I think they have used poor judgment in selecting him to be the goat in this matter."

Mr. Kerr would only say, when asked if he knew in what places Vincent had worked for the guilty association, that the affidavits in the case mentioned only Newark.

It is intimated by members of the administration that Vincent is a member of the George B. Cox organization in Cincinnati — award captain or a worker of some kind, and they expect that organization to come to his rescue with bail.

Columbus, O., July 9.—On warrants charging perjury, arrests of two solicitors of signatures to the petition for referendum on the Green Workmen's compensation law were ordered yesterday by the attorney general's department at the instance of Governor Cox, and dozens of blank forms of warrants and affidavits were drafted in anticipation of wholesale arrests in various parts of the state.

At the instance of Governor Cox, Walter B. Vincent of Cincinnati, was arrested there last night, and R. E. Lipscomb of Newark was summoned to the office of Chief of Police James S. Sheridan of Newark yesterday afternoon. Lipscomb was not put under arrest, but was placed on his own recognizance on agreement to meet at the chief's office this morning Assistant Attorney General P. E. Dempsey.

"If Lipscomb made a confession," was asked of Governor Cox last night.

"Yes, he has," the governor replied. "He will tell everything and some very startling things. One of the peculiar things was that today Lipscomb was in Zanesville securing signatures on a petition for a referendum on the Warnes act."

The alleged details as to the statements of Lipscomb were elaborated further by Governor Cox, who related that Lipscomb had said Charles Kibler of Cleveland was with him in a Columbus hotel when names were written into the Green act petition. He said that Lipscomb also had confessed to irregular work on the Warnes and Kilpatrick acts. The governor had no information as to the identity of Kibler.

Lipscomb, according to information received here, is a young man of 22 or 23, comes of good family, but, apparently, had no permanent occupation or vocation.

What the plans are for today the governor did not say, except to indicate that further exposures are due. He said the Equity Association has made the boast that in Cincinnati the old George B. Cox organization was rounding up the signatures. He said the investigation has been under way for 10 days and that a mouse was first smelled when Mr. Archer of the Liability board discovered street numbers in Lancaster that ran up as high as 2200. This was obviously wrong, he said, and the inquiry revealed that names were fraudulent. He said Mr. Archer found similar conditions in Noble county.

As to Vincent, he said that he was supposed to be working in Chillicothe on the Warnes act, but diligent inquiry had failed to disclose a single person who had been solicited. The governor assumed that work was done in a hotel behind closed doors, as he asserts was done in other cases. With Vincent yesterday, he said, was the man Kibler previously mentioned.

Governor Cox was as jubilantly happy as a schoolboy last night.

He issued this formal statement: "I think the people of Ohio will understand now the character of the people we had to fight while the legislature was in session and the means to which they resorted. In my message to the general assembly, I recommended that such safeguards be thrown around the initiative and referendum as would prevent its being invoked needlessly. Accordingly, the Weygant bill was drawn, which in its original form would have prevented just such things as this. But it could not be passed in its original form and it was amended and the inhibition against peddling of petitions taken out."

The opposition that we had in the general assembly is the same kind that in years gone by resorted to buying up legislatures in Ohio and, now in their inability to corrupt the electorate they have resorted to forgery and perjury."

The men we have arrested admit they were employed by the Equity Association in Cleveland. It is only fair to assume that they have used the same methods there."

I still contend that the referendum is a useful instrument of government. The Weygant bill, as originally drawn, should be adopted at the coming extra session of the legislature."

The governor's probe for fraud was ordered last night by Secretary Charles S. Gongwer or the Ohio Equity Association, which circulated the referendum petition.

"If fraud is found in any of the referendum petitions of the Green act, the Ohio Equity Association will lend all its influence to the prosecution and conviction of the person or persons guilty," said Gongwer. If anyone forged signatures to or wrote fictitious names on any of the petitions, the person making the affidavit to the genuineness of the petition should be arrested and sent to the penitentiary where he belongs."

This declaration he coupled with the direct charge that the state administration was making the fraud charge simply to scare people from signing referendum petitions. "They have but one purpose," he said, "and that purpose is to frighten off men whom we might employ to secure signatures and to intimidate citizens so they will refuse to sign petitions lest they become involved in some sort of scandal."

Lipscomb stated he was employed by Vincent to circulate Green law petitions in Newark. While at the chief's office he intimated he would have something to tell the state's legal officers concerning crookedness

In securing signers, but insisted the signatures he got himself were genuine.

Effort was made to arrest Vincent at Chillicothe last evening, but before the message was received he left for Cincinnati, where the arrest was made. It is said Kibler was with Vincent at Chillicothe yesterday.

At the attorney general's office it was declared the two initial arrests ordered were only an entering wedge; that Lipscomb already had told enough to show now frauds were committed and that little by little a story of the falsification of thousands of names would be disclosed.

In six counties, Pickaway, Fairfield, Noble, Licking, Ross and Butler, it was said over half the signatures had been faked.

At Newark the statement was made that there was positive proof of the falsity of 75 out of 449 signatures. As an instance, the name of John H. Reid, a mail carrier, appears on the petition as living in a house he has not occupied for six months.

Dozens of Newark men, most of them laborers attired in their work clothes and with hands and faces begrimed with grease and dirt from their various vocations, visited the office of Editor J. H. Newton yesterday and signed a statement declaring that their names on the referendum petition were forgeries. Fifty or more were men who had not been counted as being those whose names were forged to the petition. As many more telephoned Mr. Newton's office that their names were forgeries.

"I never saw the man who circulated the petition," said James McGee, one of the callers, "but I'd like to meet him today. I am a working man and I would hardly be likely to sign such a petition." McGee's hands and face were grease-stained from work in the shops.

J. W. Beeks declared that the circulation of the petition told him the petition was being signed by those who favored the workmen's compensation act. With this understanding Beeks placed his name on the petition.

At Circleville, Judge I. N. Abernethy and a half dozen others declared their signatures had been forged, the judge saying he would himself prosecute the men responsible. The Pickaway county petition of 210 names included that of O. E. Stocklin, a former township treasurer, who has not been in the county since he left it several years ago, after being charged with shortage in his funds. It was charged that 50 per cent of the Springfield petition was fraudulent.

The governor's investigators have found much evidence that solicitors who were paid per name secured found it easy to earn the money by cribbing names from city directories, poll books and registration books.

"On some petitions practically all the signatures were fraudulent," said Governor Cox last night.

In the absence of Attorney General Hogan, who is engaged in the George B. Cox bank trial at Cincinnati, Assistant Attorney General Dempsey, Special Counsel Laylin, Marshall, Davis and Follett and Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Henry M. Ballard yesterday decided to base the prosecutions on the perjury statute, Section 12842 General Code. It was thought the forgery section could be used also, but there was no doubt of the applicability of the perjury statute. Conviction under it would mean an indeterminate sentence of not less than three years nor longer than ten.

Governor Cox yesterday presented the supposition of opponents of the initiative and referendum system that his probe into petition frauds was inimical to the permanency of this radical section of the constitution.

Secretary Gongwer of the Ohio Equity Association, who accused "the tax spenders at Columbus," meaning the state administration, with making this also merely to discourage other referendums, said: "The Ohio Equity Association believes that the petitions on file with the secretary of state ordering a referendum on the Green act are in all respects genuine and sufficient."

The Ohio Equity Association means business and will not be swerved from its purpose, which is to give the people of Ohio the opportunity to speak for themselves on the acts of the recent mad-house legislature. The difficulties thrown in the way of securing signatures on the Green act referendum by the statehouse tax-spenders seemed to the latter insurmountable. More than once they boasted announced that they had killed the referendum. They were wrong then and they are wrong now. The referendum petitions on the Green act will stand and the referendum petitions on the Warnes and Kilpatrick act will be filed; and when they are filed, they also will stand against any attack which the Statehouse tax spenders may make."

WOULD LIKE TO MEET HIM FACE TO FACE.
Hon. Joseph H. Newton, Newark, Ohio.

Dear Sir:
My attention was called to your issue of the Advocate of the 7th inst., in which my name appeared as a signer of the petition for a referendum vote upon the Employers Liability Law, passed by the last legislature. I wish to take this opportunity of denying the genuineness of the signature in question, as I assure you I had no knowledge of the circulation of such a petition, much less of my having signed it.

Trusting you may be successful in your worthy attempt to put the FRAUD stamp upon this, and any other worthless petition which may be circulated, and hoping that I may be fortunate enough to meet face to face the liar and fool who is responsible for the above, I am,
Sincerely yours,
LEO T. DAVIS.

CONGRATULATES ADVOCATE.

Editor Advocate:
Allow me to congratulate you upon the stand you have taken in exposing the fraud that has been perpetrated in the filing of the now famous referendum petition. I not only never signed the petition but was never even approached upon the subject.
GEO. S. STOLTZE.

DID NOT SIGN.
No one was authorized by me to sign my name to a petition circulated in Newark asking for a referendum on the Workmen's Compensation Act.

I never saw the petition, never saw the circulator or any of his agents and consequently the placing of my name on the aforesaid petition was done without my knowledge or consent.
L. J. DOLTON.

FAVORS THE ACT.

J. H. Newton, Editor Advocate.
This is to certify that I, Thos. J. Haynes, do hereby declare that I signed the petition circulated by Ralph E. Lipscomb, but did so with the understanding that it was a petition favoring the Workmen's Compensation Act, and as against a referendum on the Green law. I am in favor of the Workmen's Compensation Act. Could not conscientiously sign any petition against it.

CAN INSURE ANY ARTICLE SENT BY THE PARCEL POST

Postmaster George D. Halsey is the recipient of an order of the Postmaster General which stipulates that a mailable parcel on which the postage is fully prepaid may be insured against any loss equivalent to its intrinsic value, but not to exceed $25, on the payment of a fee of five cents, and in an amount equivalent to its actual value in excess of $25, but not to exceed $50, on payment of a fee of ten cents in stamps, such stamps to be affixed. The amount of the insurance fee shall be placed on the receipt given the sender, and on the coupon retained at the mailing office. This became effective July 1.

JERRY BAKER RECEIVES BAD GASH IN FOOT

While engaged in cutting meat at his place of business in South Third street Wednesday morning, Jerry Baker had his right foot badly cut. Mr. Baker had a large butcher knife in his hand cutting meat, when it slipped and in falling struck his right foot. The knife cut through the shoe and badly lacerated the foot across the toes. Dr. C. F. Lesge dressed the injury.

BULGARS READY TO MAKE PEACE

Vienna, July 9.—The Bulgarian government is reported to have sent a circular to the European powers expressing its readiness to negotiate for peace.

The Bulgarian and Serbian commanders-in-chief are stated here to be already negotiating an armistice, as the losses of both armies in killed and wounded are so immense and it is feared that the epidemic of cholera which has broken out among the troops, may get beyond control.

SIX SOLDIERS KILLED WHEN CAR OVERTURNS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Washington, July 9.—The six soldiers killed in Manila yesterday when a flat car jumped the track and overturned, were Privates Body, Mares, of the Quartermaster's corps, Louis D. Koenig, Elmer Neitzinger, John Paul, Albert H. Wells and George Hughes, according to a dispatch received at the war department today. All belonged to the 95th company, Coast Artillery.

HUNTERS MUST HAVE LICENSE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Columbus, O., July 9.—One month from tomorrow, August 10, the new law which requires hunters to have a license, will go into effect. License blanks are now being sent county officials in all parts of the state by Fish and Game Warden John C. Speaks.

The license fee is one dollar and land owners, their children or tenants are exempt from provisions of the law providing they do not hunt on land owned by either.

Neither quail nor pheasant can be shot this fall without violation of the law. The open season for these birds is not until 1913.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTEBOOK

Puds Simkins unkel gave him a old automobile horn and he came around with it yesterday afternoon and we had sum fun blowing it in back of peepil to make them think an automobile was kuming wen nurn was. We took turns doing it and after a while it was my turn agen and who shood kum wawking up the paymint but my sister Gladdis, having her noo dress awn, beeing so tite eround the feat she has to take teeny littel steps like sum babby, and Puds sed, G. heers yure sistir, Benny, try it awn her.

Wich I did, kuming up behind her and sweezing the horn rite down at her feat twice rite in succession, and Gladdis gave a orfll skreetch and jumped up in the air as if she thawt sumbody was sticking a pin in her and if she hadent of grabbed a hold of the lam post she wood of fell down, awn akkount of her skert beeing so tite eround the feat noboddy cood jump up in the air in it and kum down strate.

O, Benny Potts, sed Gladdis, you jest wate till yure farthir kums hoam, youll suffer for this, O, I thawt I was beeing run ovr.

Aw, your krazy, I sed, how do you think a automobile cood kum up on the paymint.

Nevir mind how I think or wat I think, you jest wate till yure farthir kums hoam, sed Gladdis. And she went in the house and then it was Puds tern to get the horn and he went eround the kornir to see if there was enybody to skweeze it behind and pritty soon I herd it go and then Puds cal mrunning up with the horn agen, saying, G. wat do you think, I tried it awn yure fathir eround the kornir and he jumped about a mile, heer, kwiek, you try it awn him.

Wich I did, pop not seeing me and I snuck up behind him and gave the horn a fearse sweeze jest as pop was going to go up the steps, and he jumped higher than Gladdis evin and tripped ovr the bottom step and if he hadent of stopped himself with his hands he mite of stopped himself with his face.

Its awl rite, pop, its ony me, I sed. How nise, sed pop, setting awn the bottom step and rubbing his leg, yung man, I think you awt to be punished severly for this, it woodent be so had if anuthir yung imp of satan hadent jest dun the saim thing to me eround the kornir. As soon as I can I kulleckt my skattered emoshins ill deeside wat to do with you.

Aw, pop, I sed, you didnt think an awto cood kum up awn the paymint, did you.

I didnt stop to think, sed pop. And jest then Gladdis calim running out, saying, Ah, heer you are farthir, that nobel sun of yures jest fritened me out of a yeers growth with a terribil automobile horn and I wish youd punish him for it.

Aw G. I sed, how cood a awto kum up awn the paymint.

Thats not the kwestshin, sed pop, the kwestshin is, how cood the sun of a slippir kum up to the seat of the trowsirs, and if you will follo me, yung man, I will demunstrate with yure help how it can.

Wich he did.
